Jan. Meeting Notes

By Dick Metcalf

Roland opened the meeting at 6:30

Announcements:

- Ron McDonald could not be here tonight.
- The Woodworking Show in Collinsville will be held Feb. 10, 11 & 12. We plan to get a booth as we did this past year. Displays and handouts will be needed as well as manning the booth during the show. CAW members should consider entering a project in the contest for best of show.
- Roland introduced Bob Wire our candidate for President in 2012 and called for the yea votes. Bob was elected unanimously.
- Dues for the new year are now due and those that have not paid should do so ASAP.
- Rick Graber was a guest tonight. He is a former member and we hope he rejoins us.
- The Annual Picnic is scheduled for July 8 at the Rochester Park. Mark your calendars. More information will come.

The Program for tonight was our annual planning meeting to get input from the members regarding the planning and organizing of club activities for the entire 2012 year.

Roland presented two challenges to us to get our juices flowing.

- Greatest challenges as a skill or technique: Picture frames, hand cut dovetails, curved panel doors banding, setting doors on cabinets.
- Greatest challenges for work we can't do but would like to do: Veneering furniture, stain glass work, wood carving.

Roland asked us to form four groups of 7 or 8 members and to begin the process. The following are the results of the discussions:

SHOW AND TELL

Norm showed us crackers and cheese cutting boards. One was finished in lacquer. One was made from zebra wood.

Roland showed us his 3 legged table with a base made of laminated bent wood and a top made from walnut crotch wood. The design was inspired by Michael Fortune's work.

Mike Cortelyou showed us a chair made from white oak made as a wedding gift for his grand daughter. The chair is tall—made for a bar table. The laminated cross bracing and the carved seat make it a special design and gift.

ITEMS FOR SALE

Jerry S showed us a Delta Scroll Saw he offers for sale at $35.
